Re: Jane Gibson

Search made in Trenton, N.J. of newspapers from Sept. to October 1922.

Operative went to Trenton, N.J. as per instructions and started with the Trenton Evening News.

The first paper in which Mrs. Jane Gibson is mentioned in the Trenton papers is on October 24th, 1922. One story stated that the police of Trenton knew Mrs. Gibson as Mrs. Easton and that she lived in the 200 block on Hamilton Ave and at 463 Chestnut Ave and also at 338 South Broad Street. At one time the police were called to her home when she lived at 338 South Broad St. to evict some unruly tenants. Operative carefully went through the papers until 12 P.M. when the Library closed. Operative looked for the article which is supposed to contain news regarding Mrs. Gibson having some knowledge of the Laurella Marshal murder in 1912. Got to about October 29th in the Trenton News files, but did not get to the State Gazette files at all.

Operative tried to see Raymond Taylor an undertaker at 77 Prospect St. but he was out conducting a funeral.

Went to the home of Clifford Taylor at 210 North Clinton Ave. but he was not there. Made several attempts to reach him, but was unsuccessful.

Respectfully submitted:
